

MIXED MEDIA PAINTING
WITH RITA DEE
17 JULY 2020 – 10AM – 4PM

What will you learn?

Through working on textured and/or collaged backgrounds you will experiment to see how this can result in a more creative approach to your painting. Rita works mainly on textured surfaces using acrylic inks but watercolours and acrylic paints can also be used.

This method of composing pictures lends itself to most subject matter and you may work from your own sketches, photos or objects or use those provided by the tutor.

Suitable for all abilities including those new to painting

Who is your tutor?

Rita has many years of experience teaching drawing and painting to adults and is a practising artist. During 2019 she had a successful solo exhibition at Ruskin Mill in Nailsworth and participated in the Severn Vale and Tyndale Art Trails. You can see examples of work on her website: www.ritadeeart.co.uk.

Are there any additional costs?

A small charge if using the tutor's art materials or grounds but shouldn't be more than £1 per person.

What will I need?

No need to buy anything special in advance as the tutor will have plenty of supplies. However, something that will hold tiny quantities of liquid would be useful, such as a palette with wells, also a container for water and kitchen roll or rags.

If you do have any of the following bring them with you: brushes, coloured inks, paints which can be thinned with water, pens, pastels, scissors and any paper/collage material that you might like to incorporate in your work.

You may work from your own sketches, photos or objects or use those provided by the tutor.
